Author, entrepreneur, consultant and speaker J. Ann Quadagno has been helping businesses overcome challenges and reach their full potential for more than 20 years. She has worked with large and small companies across virtually every industry ranging from technology to retail, from government to insurance, and transportation. Ann has a B.S. in Political Science and an M.S. in Instructional Systems.

Helping companies maximize their human capital and overcome the obstacles that prevent them from achieving their business goals is a passion Ann continues to pursue. She understands the desire and drive to be successful on your own terms and to build the business that provides you with the fulfillment and security you need. She knows that when pursuing your dream of building a successful business you might find yourself ‘Hitting the Wall’ and in need of strategies to get around, get through, or get over that wall. In Hitting the Wall, Ann provides new approaches that help you identify and overcome your challenges and surpass your business dreams. The old way of doing things just don't work anymore (or just stops working). Sometimes a fresh look is needed to achieve staggering business success!

Ann enjoys volunteer work, an occasional game of poker, and stalking her teenage son to keep him moving in the right direction… most of the time.
As a how-to guide, this book contains everything you may need to know. Brimming with straightforward strategies anyone can use to overcome the key fears associated with growing a successful business.
